

Newsletter August 2021

Committee members: Ken Jeanes (President), Dennis White (Chair), Lionel Horler (Vice Chair), Richard Harris (Treasurer), Anne Collyer (Secretary), Jane Jeanes (SBKA Delegate), Tony Johnstone (Programme Secretary), Guy Clothier, Adam Morka, John Wood.

Welcome to this month's newsletter, as ever if you have any items to include in the next issue just drop me an email. Our recipe this month is Jeremy's tried and tested Honey BBQ sauce and although as I write this it is definitely NOT BBQ weather, hopefully we will get some late summer sunshine! We were delighted to take off our first honey recently. Ken, who has been our very patient mentor, had warned us how sticky everything would be and yes, he was right! It was very satisfying to see jars of honey with our labels at long last.

If you are interested in photography, please see the BBKA news at the end for details of their Hornet and Wasp Photo competition.

With best wishes, Anne Collyer, Divisional Secretary SESBKA

Lionel's August Bee Notes

Is there anyone who still denies the presence of global warming? As a beekeeper I certainly notice the changing weather patterns. From cold, the bees don't fly below 15°C, to long dry periods when the plants don't grow and then ferocious downpours and the bees don't fly in the rain. We then get clear skies with extremely high temperatures when lots of plants are in full flower with loads of nectar only to die in a few days because of the heat.

However, the bees do their best and forage away when conditions allow and usually manage to produce enough honey to keep them going through the winter period and hopefully some spare for me.

Apiary Visit August

We had a really successful and enjoyable visit to Ken Jeanes' Apiary in Templecombe with 16 division members participating. Ken has wide selection of 16 colonies ranging from his demonstration hive to Nucs to colonies with multiple supers. He was able to take new members through many stages of apiary management, allowing them to handle frames in all stages of development from freshly laid eggs to new bees emerging from cells to capped honey. Thanks to Jane, the day was rounded off with a welcome cup of tea and home-made cakes.

Jeremy's Honey Barbeque Sauce

This can be served warm or cold and will keep for several days in the fridge

Quantities can be varied to suit your taste. Chop 1 onion and fry in a little olive oil until soft and beginning to brown. Add a tin of chopped tomatoes, chopped fresh tomatoes, salt and pepper, Worcestershire sauce and smoked paprika. If you have a bottle of red wine open add a good glug of wine and, if you like it hot, add some chillies/chilli powder. Cook for approximately 50-60 minutes until a thick consistency. Take off heat and add honey to taste.

IMPORTANT MESSAGE from Diane Drinkwater, Chair of Communications:

BBKA's social media needs you! We would love to share your bee related photos on Instagram, Twitter and Facebook.

If you would like us to use your photos and videos - we can share them with your name and association and help educate the public about beekeeping with descriptive information explaining what is in the picture. Videos do especially well, catching people's attention and being able to show so much more than a single photo.

If you have your own social media accounts, please follow us and tag BBKA tags to ensure we can share your photos.

If you're not familiar with social media but have photos or videos that you are happy to share with us for BBKA to use, acknowledging you, please email Erica.challis@bbka.org.uk

Whether it's a bee on a flower in your garden, or a video of your extractor spinning out honey, we'd love to share these with the public.
